If you feel unwell...

1

Find a medical facility

Early diagnosis and treatment are important.

Visit a medical facility early to avoid infecting others.

If you have a fever or rash, call the medical facility beforehand to inform them of your symptoms.

2

Go to a medical institution

- Wear a mask when traveling or visiting a medical institution.
- If you're not wearing a mask, be sure to cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when coughing or sneezing.
- Avoid public transport when possible. Walk or take a taxi.

3

Examination

When you arrive at the medical institution

Check in at the reception. *If you have a fever or rash, inform the staff at reception.

Fill out the medical questionnaire.

Wait in the waiting room for a while.

When your name is called, go to the examination room.

Tell them about your symptoms and which country or region you came from. Tests or procedures may be performed as needed.

After the examination, return to the waiting room.

When your name is called, take your prescription, and pay all the costs charged by the medical facility.

Some facilities accept credit cards, but others may only accept cash. Some facilities dispense medicine in-house.

How to receive medicine

Go to the pharmacy, submit the prescription you received from the medical facility, and wait in the waiting area.

When your name is called, take your medicine and pay for it.

Some facilities accept credit cards, but others may only accept cash.
