

Foreword

Hirofumi Yoshimura

Governor of Osaka Prefecture

The vision of the SDGs, which embraces the principle of “leaving no one behind,” aligns with the theme of Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan, “Designing Future Society for Our Lives.” Osaka Prefecture has been at the forefront of promoting SDGs initiatives since the bid to host the Expo. In 2020, we established the “Osaka SDGs Vision,” aiming to become an SDG City that leads the world in achieving SDGs as an Expo host city. To achieve this, it is vital for all of Osaka—including residents, businesses, municipalities, and other entities—to work together towards the accomplishment of the SDGs.

This data book was created to support those who are advancing SDGs initiatives. It presents data related to the 17 goals and showcases advanced examples from local businesses in a clear and accessible manner. We hope that this book will help resolve doubts and concerns such as, “I know about the SDGs, but I don't know where to start,” or “Is my company's initiative contributing to the SDGs?” We also hope it will foster collaboration among stakeholders, leading to new projects and creating opportunities to achieve the SDGs.

As we aim to make Osaka an SDG City, let us join forces and take Osaka's SDGs a step further, leading the world from Osaka.

In September 2015, “Transforming Our World: The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development” was adopted. As the phrase “Think globally, act locally” suggests, achieving the SDGs requires an understanding of global trends while taking concrete actions at the local level. By setting and working towards unique regional goals (Local SDGs) by referencing the SDGs, we can address local issues and create new value. However, when called upon to take action today to transform our world, many may feel confused or unsure about what specific actions they should take. In such times, remember the phrase “Think globally, act locally.” By focusing on your immediate surroundings, you will find it easier to identify issues and take the first step.

Additionally, the use of data in such actions is key. Utilizing data makes it possible to understand the current situation, identify problems, and consider actions to solve them. This book clearly summarizes SDG-related data for Osaka. I hope it will serve as useful reference information for effective initiatives to achieve the goals by 2030, and be widely utilized by many people.

Purpose of this Book

Towards the target year of 2030 for the SDGs, numerous citizens, companies, and organizations in Osaka Prefecture are actively engaging in SDG-related actions. However, globally, only 17% of the 169 targets of the SDGs are currently progressing satisfactorily*.

In view of this situation, we have created this book to promote the efforts of companies and organizations that play a significant role in achieving the SDGs, and to accelerate SDG-related actions within the prefecture.

The data and examples of corporate initiatives featured in this book aim to convey the current situation in Osaka Prefecture and serve as hints when integrating SDGs into business strategies or addressing new regional issues. We hope this book will support your efforts.

Why are SDGs Necessary for Companies?

For companies to grow and develop sustainably, management that considers long-term societal needs is essential. There is now a lot of buzz about utilizing SDGs as a tool or concept for avoiding long-term management risks and negative impacts on the social environment, while also seizing new business opportunities.

My SDGs Declaration Project

To achieve the SDGs, it is essential for each of us to consider the goals as our own and take concrete actions. Sustainable Development Goals might seem grand and challenging, making one feel disconnected or powerless, but there are many familiar actions and initiatives in our daily lives that contribute to the SDGs.

The "My SDGs Declaration Project" invites all stakeholders, including residents, businesses, and organizations within Osaka, to declare their actions towards achieving the SDGs. These declarations are shared and introduced on the Osaka Prefecture website and other platforms, spreading the message to a broader audience. The SDGs start with the awareness and actions of each individual. Let's declare our SDGs actions and work together to build a sustainable future.

This book covers various data related to the SDGs, but subjective aspects such as quality of life and happiness, which cannot be captured by objective numbers alone, are also essential for achieving the SDGs. Thus, we conducted a survey on “laughter,” for which Osaka is renowned, and the subjective feelings of “happiness” and “feeling healthy.”

Correlation Between “Laughter,” “Happiness,” and “Feeling healthy”

In the survey, participants rated six items—“Laughter,” “Worthwhile,” “Life satisfaction,” “Happiness,” “Anxiety,” and “Feeling healthy”—on an 11-point scale from 0 to 10. The results showed a positive correlation between “Laughter” and “Happiness,” “Life satisfaction,” “Worthwhile,” and “Feeling healthy.” Increasing “Laughter,” a leading characteristic of Osaka, might improve people’s sense of happiness and health, potentially contributing to the achievement of the SDGs.

- How to Read the Graph: This graph shows the percentage results for each survey question, with responses rated on an 11-point scale.

- Correlation coefficient: The closer it is to 1, the stronger the relationship; the closer it is to 0, the weaker the relationship.

SDG Initiatives in Osaka Prefecture

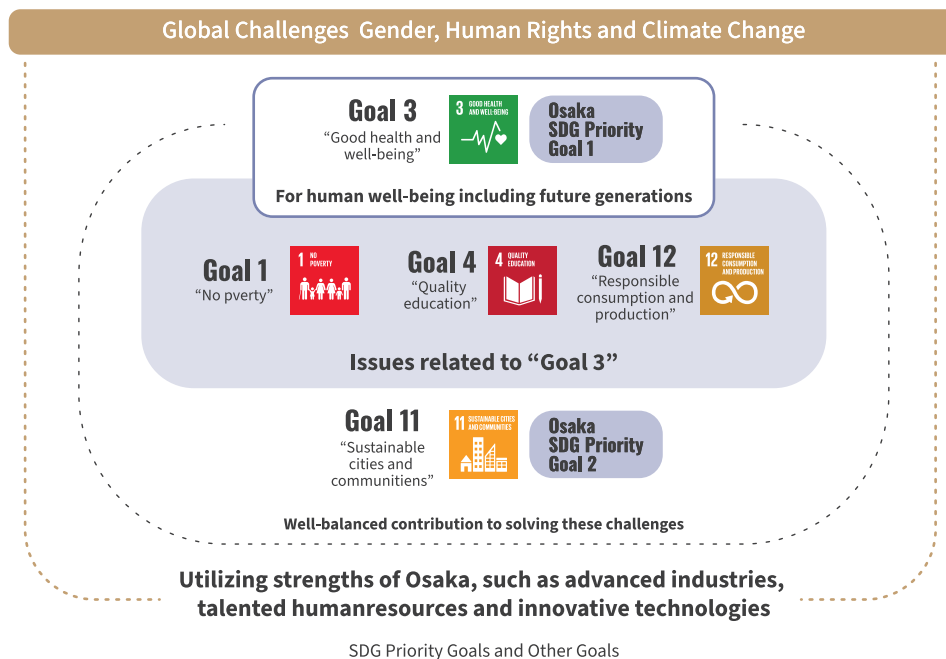

Osaka's Vision for SDGs

Osaka's Vision for SDGs was formulated in March 2020 with the aim of making Osaka the leading SDG City in the world, contributing to the achievement of the SDGs as the host city of Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan. This vision clarifies the image of the SDG City that Osaka aspires to become and aims to create new SDG initiatives through shared efforts across the entire prefecture with residents, businesses, municipalities, and various other stakeholders.

The vision outlines the role of the prefecture, including connecting the efforts of various stakeholders with actual contributions to the SDGs. It also presents a process for establishing Osaka as an SDG City and achieving this as a legacy of the Expo. The vision positions certain priority goals, which include goals that need to be addressed to overcome challenges and goals that can contribute globally, based on an analysis of goal achievements, surveys of residents and businesses, and other factors. Guided by this vision, Osaka aims to lead Japan and the world in achieving the SDGs by 2030, in collaboration with the global community.

Food Loss Zero Challenge Days Compost Utilization Workshop

Salvage Party

Shokutowa Project

Food waste reduction is one of the issues we are tackling through community co-creation activities. In the project that started in July 2022 in the Hyogo-Kawanishi area, we have carried out events aimed at changing consumer awareness and behavior, such as Food Loss Zero Challenge Days, where household food waste is composted, and Salvage Parties® (Salpa), using ingredients that were scheduled to be discarded. Furthermore, based on the partnerships formed through these initiatives, we launched the Shokutowa Project in January 2025, bringing together companies, organizations, and municipalities to think and act on food circulation. Moving forward, we will continue to build a foundation where local businesses and residents can cooperate and enjoy working on food waste reduction.

We have introduced and installed Tea Refill Spots where purchased drinks can be refilled into personal bottles, and we have tested reusable cup-sharing services to reduce disposable containers. We also participate in the Osaka My Bottle Partners initiative. Furthermore, to reduce the hassle of washing personal bottles, we have co-developed with partner companies a "My Bottle Washing Machine" that can be easily used outside the home. This washing machine is being installed in corporate offices and will be set up at various locations of Expo 2025 Osaka, Kansai, Japan. Moving forward, we will continue to promote initiatives that make it easier and more routine for people to use personal bottles.

Distribution of Reading Journals and Physical Fitness Programs

Do you know how much CO₂ is emitted during soccer matches? In collaboration with our SDGs partners, Osaka Gas and Yanmar, we are undertaking the CO₂ Zero Challenge, utilizing J-Credits and green electricity to bring the CO₂ emissions of all home games in the J-League effectively to zero. This promotes our activities toward achieving carbon neutrality across the entire club. Additionally, in cooperation with educational institutions and local governments, we distribute reading journals to elementary school students and implement physical fitness programs led by ambassadors, fostering learning motivation and health improvement among children. Through sports, we aim to achieve the SDGs and contribute to building a richer society and community for the next generation.

Designing a new "work" centered on people

Itoki Osaka Showroom "Working Space"

Activities of the SPLi Women's Empowerment Community

In recent years, "human capital management" has gained attention as a management method to enhance corporate value. Through our business activities, such as office design and consulting on work styles, we contribute to maximizing the value of human capital in society. Internally, we systematically organize challenges and strategies based on human capital management, setting KPIs such as "employee engagement score" and "ratio of female managers." To achieve these KPIs, we invest in the work environment, strengthen internal communication, and expand community activities aimed at promoting women's participation and developing global talent. As work styles continue to diversify, the importance of the office is increasing. Moving forward, we will address various challenges surrounding workspaces and contribute to improving the well-being and happiness of people working in society.
